www.bridgestonegolf.com www.preceptgolf.com

A leading Golf Ball and Equipment Manufacturer needed to re-brand their image to correspond to a new product launch. This product reference site includes a real-time web service feed into the Map Quest Site Advantage API for dealer location. In addition, a data driven Survey feature is built into the site to allow Bridgestone to launch a new survey in hours to gather marketing feedback. Technology One acts as web master with both of these websites.

Chiltons is a family-run company dedicated to bringing customers high-quality, classic furniture and accessories at excellent prices. Chilton was looking for a robust shopping cart with ease of administration. Chiltons implemented the packaged Technology One E-Commerce store.

www.cokepremiums.com

This is an enterprise E-Commerce site developed for use by Coca-Cola Enterprises and Coca-Cola North America to allow their internal purchasers to buy and distribute incentive gift products to their customers. This site is also integrated into the Coca-Cola Enterprises internal SAP Procurement System.

www.meansprecast.com

This manufacturer of Pre-Cast Concrete products needed an updated logo, image, and new web site. The site purpose is a marketing reference site for customers to view and obtain detailed technical specifications of Means Pre-Cast offered product line.

www.michaelfranzese.com

When Michael Franzese needed to quickly implement a shopping cart to sell and promote his best selling book online, he turned to the Technology One "Quick Cart" hosted solution. Quick Cart is a remotely hosted solution that can be implemented in hours and not days. The Catalog, Checkout, and Payment processes are all executed remotely freeing up resources on ones web server.

www.pollcast.net

PollCast turns cell phones into instant mobile polling devices using text-messaging. It's completely opt-in, privacy insured. Members are compensated for every query they respond to subsidizing the cost of cell phone utilization Clients receive both instant market intelligence (insight) and market persuasion (impact) to create a sustainable competitive advantage.

www.powerpay.us

PowerPay was looking for an entire website design that was different from everyone else. The characters on the PowerPay site have voice interaction for the customer to listen to the benefits and not just read about them. Technology One can configure the animated characters to communicate customer needs with many diverse looks.
